eNotes from Customer LoveInternational Networking WeekDear Richard,

This coming week (Feb 5 – 9) is International Networking Week. It's purpose is to raise the profile of networking in the wider community, recognising it as an essential tool for business success.

Networking can be extremely effective in helping you to grow your business but at the end of the day it still comes down to you. Nurturing the relationships you create, and helping others meet their needs.

No doubt there are people you can think of that you met at an event... you enjoyed the connection, but you haven't actually done anything to further develop that initial contact.

This week, we'd like to encourage you to go through your list of contacts, and re-connect with someone you met at a networking or business function.

Pick up the phone and invite them to join you for coffee, forward them some information about a seminar or business group that you think may be of benefit to them, and of course you can always send them a Customer Love card.

Building relationships one card at a time!

Happy Networking!

PS: A note from one of our Customer Love friends. . .

Hi Lee and Chris

I just wanted to send you a quick email to say how much I have enjoyed receiving your e-newsletters weekly. They always have something interesting and make you think about what you are doing in my business for my clients.

Last week one of my clients was stuck on how to approach her clients. How she would increase her presence with a personal touch. I re-directed your email and she was very impressed. Hopefully she has signed up for the newsletters and therefore purchased some of your beautiful cards.

Congratulations and well done

With warmest regards

Melissa Caslick
